Divisional Leader – Water and Flooding

- Melbourne CBD location
- Great salary
- Continuous learning and development opportunities

Recently joining a significant national mining organisation, this design engineering consultancy is the specialist infrastructure design arm for the group. Private and government clients benefit from their detailed knowledge of flood modelling and mitigation, stormwater management, water sensitive urban design principles and integrated water management.

They are currently recruiting for a Divisional Leader who is a specialist in Flooding, Flood studies, Flood modeling, General Hydrology, Water Hydraulics, Surface water flow, storm water and Water Sensitive Urban Design (WSUD).

In addition to a strong track record specialising in the areas just mentioned, the successful candidate will be technically astute and possess strong leadership qualities. Ideally you will also have experience working within a Consulting Engineering company.

The senior managers in this organisation are hands on practitioners and take a direct interest in every project. You will have the opportunity to be mentored by experienced practitioners, take part in the organisations professional development program and will get to work on a diverse range of projects.

Rather than being a ‘number’ in large firm, employees in this organisation are recognised for their contribution.

An attractive remuneration will be negotiated based on your experience.
